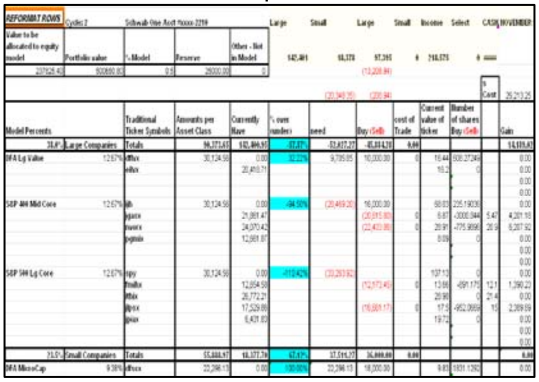
Here's how it works:

We help you establish an account at broker-dealer like Schwab or Fidelity that will maintain custody of your investments. On a daily basis, your portfolio information is securely downloaded into our systems, and our investment team reviews and reconciles all account positions and trades.



On a monthly basis, your portfolio is reviewed by our investment team in relationship to your desired allocation. If a change is recommended, our investment team considers your individual situation, the overall state of the market, your tax situation, and all of the pertinent data we gathered during our financial planning process. If our investment team deems a need for adjustments in your portfolio, trade recommendations are entered into our system. The Chief Investment Officer reviews and approves all trades before sending to the broker-dealer.

Every month, we prepare and upload a custom portfolio report to your Private Client Web Page on Family Office Network. Our portfolio reports will track your overall portfolio performance, current allocation, management fee's, contributions and withdraws. In addition, you will receive monthly account statements and trade confirmations directly from the custodian. (Schwab or Fidelity). This double accounting ensures you know exactly what you own and where it is held.
